Edmonton Endorses McMurray Route

BOTTOMS UP IN LONDON—Flopping on their tummies atop a wall, these three young ladies kick up their heels near London's Buckingham Palace. Spending a lazy summer's afternoon, they are looking for pennies in a fountain.

Council Meeting Records Choice Eastern Route Gaining Support

By Edith Hilton

Edmonton's city council at its regular weekly meeting went on record as endorsing the eastern or McMurray route to the north as opposed to the Grimshaw route for the proposed railway to the north.

In so making known its decision to favor the eastern route, the city council has joined the growing numbers who have asked for the McMurray route at hearings being conducted by the Manning Royal Commission.

It would appear from the mass of evidence given before the commission that despite the fact both routes have been marked as feasible by the railway engineers who have scouted the two routes, the eastern one is the better of the two. It is better for two main reasons. These are most important and should be kept in mind.

The first and foremost reason being that the eastern route is the shorter of the two in the way of miles covered. Then, too, the McMurray route has the more favorable grades as far as railway construction is concerned and therefore would take less cost to build.

The second reason is that of the two routes, Grimshaw and McMurray, the latter one is shorter and this shortness of distance will more than compensate for the cost of bridges across the Athabasca and Peace rivers.

Looking at the construction costs it would appear that the McMurray one would cost less to build than the Grimshaw route as the grades on the eastern one are less and are easier to engineer.

A third reason and no less important is the fact that by taking the railway via McMurray the rail would pass through and open up vast areas of mineral deposits and industrial areas as well as potential ranching areas. This all adds up to better freight operations and more revenue from the shipment of products to the markets in Edmonton and elsewhere.

The Grimshaw way would not pass through as promising an area for opening up of mineral deposits and the farming country is too scattered and too sparsely settled to be of dependable economic operation of the railway. The distances for haulage are too difficult and too far-flung.

So, in the hearings thus far the pattern seems to be coming out more in favor of the McMurray route which has been favored in the briefs presented by the Edmonton Chamber of Mines and the Canadian Kodiak Refineries who have interests in the area.

The endorsation by the Edmonton city council gives added support to the brief presented by the Yellowknife Chamber of Commerce asking for the route through McMurray.

Cattle Spraying Demonstration Slated For Venice

VENICE — A cattle spraying demonstration will be held on Vincent Zevola's farm near Venice beginning at 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 23.

The demonstration will be conducted by the staff of the department of agriculture using high pressure sprayers to apply the radical new chemical Coral which controls warbles and other parasitic insects of cattle.

The purpose of the demonstration is to give local cattlemen an opportunity to see the type of machinery required and the method of application. It is also intended to give farmers a chance to judge for themselves the value and usefulness of this treatment.

Stan Powers, district agriculturist, advises that all farmers attending this event should come dressed in their working clothes as they will have an opportunity to participate in the spraying operation.

All stockmen are urged to make a special effort to attend this event which will not likely be repeated in this district for some time.

Mrs. B. Jackson Describes Tour

LA LA BICHE — The September meeting of the Evangelical Free Church WMS was held at the home of Mrs. Ed. Cadieux, Sept. 10. with four members and six visitors and several children present.

After the usual opening exercises, Mrs. Ed. Guinand gave the devotional, speaking on "Gardens in the Scriptures". Mrs. Frank Wilson gave a report on the progress of the Baptist Indian Bible School which will open shortly in the former Mangion school. Mrs. Billy Jackson, who accompanied her husband on an evangelistic tour this summer to points as far north as Whitehorse, Yukon, also gave a resume of their activities. These reports were much enjoyed by those present.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Emil Cadieux, served a lunch.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ed. Guinand, Oct. 8, at 2 p.m. A welcome is extended to all ladies who wish to attend.

Crop Report

LAC LA BICHE — District Agriculturist Stan Powers reports indications are that the district will harvest one of the heaviest crops for many years. Clover and alfalfa are forming seed exceptionally well and barring unforeseen difficulties in harvesting, should yield a heavy crop.

Wheat is not a big crop in this area but many fields are looking good. Oats and barley, which are more common than wheat, are also showing promise of good yields.

According to the agriculturist it will be difficult to assess the amount of damage from frost until harvesting is further advanced.

Lac la Biche

The first load of grain delivered to the UGG elevator at Lac la Biche for the 1959 crop season was brought in Sept. 10 by Metro Watamanuik of Wandering River. The barley was of fair quality and graded 3 CW 6 row.

Miss Beryl Tiffin, R.N., nurse at the Athabasca Health Unit here for the past two years, has been transferred to the Chinook Health Unit at Fort McLeod. Miss Tiffin, who will be senior nurse at her new appintment, left on short notice to commence duties September 14.

Frost occurred in Lac la Biche early Wednesday morning, Sept. 9. Although some gardens escaped with little damage, it is believed that crops will be affected to some degree in the district in general.

After recent heavy rains the fields are mostly too soft to begin harvesting, but with a few days of sunshine the picture will soon look brighter.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Lloyd and baby daughter of Cold Lake were called home due to the serious illness of Mr. Llyod Sr.

Mrs. Eli Tkachuk, accompanied by Mrs. J. Zaluzny, went by train to Enderby, B.C., to visit her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Gingras, who are operating a ranch there. The local ladies, who spent two enjoyable weeks in the uper Okanagan, also visited Mr. and Mrs. John Hawirko, former residents of Lac la Biche, now operating a store in Vernon, B.C.

Rich Lake

Several district residents attended the Open House at the Benfield home at St. Lina on the occasion of the marriage of their eldest daughter Bernidine to Leo Waine, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Waine of this district.

The opening of school is delayed due to the new school not being competed.

The September meeting of the United Church Ladies Aid was held at the home of Cecile Keeper.

Fay McEachern Heads Students

The Hylo Junior High Students' Union held its first meeting of the season Sept. 8.

Election of officers took place and Miss Fay McEachern is president; Noe Bourassa, vice-president; Miss Gloria Zalewsky, secretary! Richard Sachko, treasurer.

Plamondon Home Razed By Fire

PLAMONDON—Fire of unknown origin razed the far home of Mrs. G. Engli, the former Mrs. Gravel, who is well known in this district and had recently returned from Vancouver to spend some time on her farm.

Mrs. Engli had been absent from the house for about one hour while she took lunch to the men working in the field. When she returned to the farmyard the house was an inferno of flames and with the high wind that was blowing at the time there was no chance of even getting close to the home.

When the men at work about half a mile away saw the smoke and returned to the house nothing could be done.

The building was partly covered by insurance but none was carried on the contents.

New Teachers At Plamondon School

Plamondon School re-opened with 13 teachers on the staff.

Most of last year's staff are back even if two have changed their names from Miss to Mrs. Three new members are: Miss Georgette Durocher of Normandeau; Miss Georgette Fortin and Miss Rita Fortin, sisters from New Brunswick.

EX-NAVY MEN MEET—Lord Mountbatten met a face from his past—a very welcome face. Nineteen years ago the earl, then Capt. Mountbatten, was aboard his destroyer, Javelin, when it was struck by a German torpedo. Alec Carno, mate of the Royal Canadian Yacht club ferry in Toronto harbor, was captain of the tugboat that towed the stricken destroyer to Plymouth, England. The two ex-navy men talked of the time they served in Ceylon.

THE Homemaker

By BERTHA M. McCUTCHEON

Most of the children are willing and anxious to return to school. The beginners can hardly wait to start the great adventure. On the other hand there are always the teen-agers who are determined not to go back to school. Many have had summer jobs and are thrilled with the idea of being self-supporting. Parents, teachers, advisors and youth leaders must cooperate in convincing the younger-er generation of the value of education.

B. McCutcheon

If there is no possibility of a return to high school, what about technical training? The Institute of Technology and Art in Calgary provides excellent courses in the skilled trades. Radio, electronics, television and refrigeration are fields of unlimited opportunity. Courses for girls include dressmaking, tailoring, millinery, handicrafts, food service, art and interior decorating.

A word of warning — do not sign up for correspondence courses until you have some reliable information on their value.

Do not forget the courses at the Schools fo Agriculture. The five-month term allows farm young people to help on the farm from seeding through harvest. During the winter months they not only learn practical agriculture or home economics but they are trained in community leadership. One school year costs approximately two hundred and seventy dollars. This includes board, room, books, uniforms, medical and library fees. Spending money would be extra. Scholarships and loans are available.

Further information, calendars and application forms may be had from this office.

The university greenhouse is now open from two to four o'clock on Sunday afternoons. An attendant will provide information about the plants and their arrangement.

If you are dreading the thought of school lunches, perhaps we can help you with bulletins on The School Lunch. Have you tried making up a week's supply at a time and putting them in the freezer? Not all fillings are suitable but meats, fish, cheese and egg yolk freeze well.

Are you planning a new home or perhaps thinking of remodeling? Just write for information or ask me to call around.

COULD THIS BE in store for Edmontonians in the near future? It is the new $19,000,000 Skyway built at Burlington, Ontario, and now doing a booming business for the department of highways. It is quite possible a similar structure could help solve some of the traffic problems of Edmonton's home-going public after 5 p.m. It is nice to dream of such even if the idea doesn't materialize.

Winter Work For Jobless Campaign To Commence Soon

With summer hardly over, plans are already being formulated to help combat the spectre of unemployment in the city of Edmonton this coming winter. It is for this purpose that a 17-member committee has been formed under the title of Edmonton Winter Employment Campaign Co-ordinating Committee to formulate and carry out plans and projects to help ease the winter employment situation.

The campaign plans at present fall into two distinct parts—first, there will be a campaign under the slogan "Plan It Now" commencing the week of Oct. 19, in which the employers will be urged to plan their winter work program so that they can give work to men who would otherwise be unemployed.

The second phase of the drive will be under the heading of "Do It Now" and it is during this time that the actual work would be done using the men who are unemployed to work on these projects.

It is the idea of the Committees to have this winter works program carry on, on a long range basis which will later form the nucleus of a continuing drive throughout the summer months. But in order to have a good working winter work drive it will be necessary to provide ways and means of increasing the skills and education of the workers so that they will become less vulnerable to unemployment. So, it is with this latter idea in mind, that the Committee expects to present briefs to the Provincial Departments of labor and education giving their ideas on the manner of increasing the workers' skill and education.

The Committee is composed of representatives of the National Employment Service, the Provincial Department of Labor, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association labor groups, women's organizations and other interested persons.

Community Chest Drive To Begin On October 1

Preparations are underway for the annual fall canvass for funds by the Edmonton Community Chest. This year the drive has set $602,192 for its objective.

In order to carry on the canvass the Chest will be training some 700 volunteers in the work of the Chest and the objects of the drive. For many of the canvassers this will be merely a refresher course while for others it will be their first time at the job. The campaign is set for October 1st as being "C" day in Edmonton.

It was reported during a recent meeting of the Chest Officials that more Edmontonians give to the Community Chest than vote in the civic elections. Last year's donors were estimated between 60,000 and 70,000 while the number of persons who cast ballots in the civic elections only numbered 18,000 or more.

The campaign is divided into two sections as usual, the industrial section and the ladies' section.

Engagement

The engagement is announced between Mr. Walter Aleksiuk of Grassland and Miss Roseanne Last, county nurse here. The wedding will take place in Carman, Manitoba.

ANNEXATION OF RURAL AREAS URGED BY COMMITTEE REPORT

A 12-man committee of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, appointed to study the McNally Royal Commission report on Metropolitan Edmonton, have completed their studies and have made recommendations to the chamber.

The report submitted, by Mr. Les L. Bodie, committee chairman, in its findings recommends that the chamber members favor "annexation of the communities comprising greater Edmonton area."

Although the Bodie report has been submitted to the chamber it will not be voted on for a month or so, as the chamber intends to hear speakers on both sides of the thorny amalgamation question express their views so that members may have "an informed opinion."

The chamber hopes to formulate its policies on amalgamation before the Board of Public Utility Commissioners' hearings on the subject set for November 3.

The committee in its study of the report points out the following observation—"the sprawling urban growth of the city sometimes has results that are inefficient, costly and socially undesirable. The almost universal division of metropolitan areas into many units of local government is the result of numerous factors, but in general it reflects the fact that population and industrial growth has extended outward from the city centre and overrun the boundaries of adjacent rural municipalities."

Further citing the reasons for annexation of the urban areas, the committee points out the gaining of primary services which should be provided by such union. Further, municipal government should be tailored to the needs of the community, which means the local people and officials must assume major responsibility, for the study of their own needs and forming and carrying out their own plans.

The committee however, cautioned in their report, that it would be unreasonable to expect any municipality of the metropolitan area, with individual habits and interests to be in complete agreement with any form of union which will cost them higher taxes as well as diminishing of their prestige.

The first comment on the committee's proposed amalgamation was Prof. E. J. Hanson, Professor of Political Economy at the University of Alberta, who endorsed the recommendations as being a solution to the more balanced taxation system for Edmonton.

In contacting the secretary treasurer of the Town of Beverly, for his comments had this to say: "The Town has already made application to the Board of Public Utilities for annexation to the City as far back as May 1958." They are in favor of such annexation as a means of bettering the town's conditions.

The secretary treasurer of the MD of Sturgeon River, had this to say, "For reasons, known to the council of the Municipal District, the MD has no comment to make on the matter at the present moment."

The mayor of Jasper Place when asked for his comments on the report, declined to make any.

The secretary-treasurer of the MD of Strathcona, when contacted for an opinion on the committee's recommendations had this to say: "This recommendation of a committee of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce comes as no surprise to us as it merely reflects the somewhat selfish attitude of the McNally report in that Industrial Assessment is a luxury that may only be enjoyed by Urban areas. The very fact that the committee arrived at its conclusions in such a short time would indicate that no serious study was made of the problems involved and that no effort was made to acquaint the members of the Committee with our side of the story.

We are however, somewhat surprised at the statements attributed to Dr. E. J. Hanson of the University of Alberta. In 1952 Dr. Hanson was retained by the Municipal District to study the Gertler Report which would include the Industrial Area in a Metropolitan School District. At that time Dr. Hanson stated, among other things, "In view of the foregoing it would be inequitable to transfer the Industrial Assessment in the Clover Bar School Division to a Metropolitan School District. It would deprive the rural area concerned of ability to provide a high level of service which is costlier in rural than in Urban areas. Further it would widen more than ever the differential between Rural and Urban burdens." At the Chamber of Commerce meeting Dr. Hanson stated amalgamation would just about double the Strathcona Mill rate. We can agree with him on this statement."

Whether or not there will be entire and freewill annexation by the city of the urban areas is something to be seen and will not be known until the chamber presents its brief to the hearings of the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners in November.

SCIENTIST PREDICTS 1,540,000 WILL DIE FROM A-BOMB TESTING

Some 2,000 persons who attended a public lecture held under the sponsorship of the Edmonton Committee for the Control of Radiation Hazards, heard Dr. Linus Pauling predict that 1,540,000 people would die from the effects of the nuclear weapons which have been exploded over the last ten years or more.

Dr. Pauling was speaking in the Jubilee Auditorium, during the course of a lecture tour. He painted a very dark outlook for the state of the world as he told his audience that some 30,000 to 60,000 people would die for every nuclear bomb exploded in the future. The figures quoted were those of the American scientists who have been studying the effects of Radiation Hazards. Going a step further, Dr. Pauling, noted that the cause of these deaths has been definitely traced to this radiation matter in the air.

Out of the persons now living, he said, about 150,000 of them would possibly die from lukemia and bone cancer while an estimated 140,000 would perish from the radiation effects on human reproductive organs.

Dr. Pauling told his listeners that the maximum fallout from the bomb presently exploded will begin to fall around 1967 and then will peter out, with continued fallouts for the next century or so.

Dr. Pauling, in speaking of the leaders who ordered nuclear bomb tests started again, had this to say: "The national leader who ordered nuclear bomb tests started again with our knowledge; our certainty; will be committing an act of criminal folly, showing contempt for the people".

Dr. Pauling does believe though, that there will be no third world war and that the last nuclear bomb was fired last November 4. However, he warned, that in the event of a third world war, it is well to remember that leaders as well as the people will be in the front line of attack. He is further convinced that no one of either the eastern or the western world were wanting to risk the extinction of half the world's people which would be the result of any unrestricted unleashing of nuclear warfare.

During the course of his address, the speaker made the observation that H-Bomb shelters are both a waste of time and money, as neither would be of much protection except to only a few thousand people. He said that the best way to preserve life would be to work towards the prevention of any further international wars.

Dr. Pauling is a nobel prize-winning chemist and is on the staff of the Chemical Engineering Division of the California Institute. He was one of the leaders in the fight against the use of nuclear weapons in the fighting of international wars.

The Edmonton Committee for the control of Radiation Hazards has been organized only a short while but they hope to make their organization Canada-wide. The Edmonton Chapter is under the joint chairmanship of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Van Stolk.

PROMINENT AUTHOR SAYS:

Excess Drinking Plus Marriage Produces Highly Explosive Duo

By Howard Whitman

PART 4, in the 12 part series on "Our Drinking Habits" by one of the nation's outstanding writers on social problems.

Mix matrimony with heavy drinking, chill, and stir briskly, and you get marriage-on-the-rocks. It's a concoction that's becoming tragically popular at the nation's bars — of justice. Here, typical of cases heard every day, is verbatim testimony from the Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia:

Lawyer: When did your husband start this drinking?

Woman (suing for divorce): Well, he used to drink right after we were married, but nothing ever came of it . . .

Lawyer: Then what happened?

Woman: He took to staying out two or three nights a week. He would come home blind drunk at about 3 or 4 in the morning, unfit to go to work the next day. Finally he lost his job. He got another, and for a while everything was all right, but then it started all over again.

Howard Whitman

Master (appointed by judge to take testimony): You mean he got drunk two or three times a week?

Woman: Never less than that. For a year or so before our separation it seemed like it was almost every night.

Master: Where did he get the money?

Couldn't Hold a Job

Woman: I'll never know. He was always with a crowd of men. They always seemed to have enough to buy drinks.

Lawyer: Did your husband give you enough to run the house?

Woman: He did at first---when he was working, but for the last couple of years he couldn't hold a job. He tried half a dozen different ones but couldn't hold them. We were always moving, too. We lived in seven or eight different houses . . . . we couldn't pay the rent . . .

Lawyer: Did he mistreat you in any way?

Woman: Well, most of the time he didn't bother me, but I was never sure. Sometimes he would come home and for no reason start punching me. I used to have to lock myself in the children's room. I could hear him downstairs throwing chairs around. Once he threw a clock at me . . .

Lawyer: Did he mistreat the children?

Woman: No, he never went in their room. They were afraid of him, though. We all were. You could never tell what he'd do next.

Master: Did he ever harm you when he was sober?

Would Feel Sorry

Woman: Oh, no, never. When he was sober he used to feel sorry for what he had done when he was drunk. But toward the end he wasn't sober very often.

(A neighbor woman takes the stand)

Neighbor: On Christmas Eve she (the woman plaintiff) put the kids to bed and spent the whole night trimming the Christmas tree. About 3 a.m. he (the woman's husband) came home, drunk as usual. We had just finished trimming our own tree, and when he put the light on in their living room we could see him . . . . He smashed the tree and we could hear him cursing something awful. I told my husband the good Lord must be ashamed of that man.

It was pretty obvious from the testimony that the man must have been ashamed of himself, too.

Probably the most frequent lines spoken when drinking squabbles end up in court are (from the wife), "He's such a wonderful man when he's sober, Judge," and (from the husband), "I'm sorry, our Honor. give me one more chance and I'll never touch another drop."

A Frequent Complaint

In an analysis of 1,434 divorces in Philadelphia, excessive drinking was charged in 21% of the cases. It was a more frequent complaint (though it is not a legal ground for divorce in Pennsylvania) than cruelty, adultery, bigamy, fraud, and sexual aberrations combined.

In Chicago, a study of 1,000 families torn by marital discord listed drinking as the prime cause in 30% of the cases. In Arkansas, a Family Service official estimated that 50% of the divorces involved alcohol. A Kentucky survey of reasons for unhappiness" among women with sour marriages found "husband's drinking" listed second, topped only by "the way the money is handled."

Alcohol appears, on the surface at least, an execrable villain. But there is more to the story. If drinking were a cause in itself, how is it that millions of married couples drink quite a bit and remain happily in love?

A woman goes to a lawyer and starts her tale of woe with, "Everything was all right until my husband started drinking." And in that very line is the joker. Everything wasn't all right. That's why he started drinking.

It's a Symptom

Today the enlightened judge recognizes excessive drinking as a symptom, like a fever which is not a basic disorder but rather a signal that something more fundamental is awry.

Instead of trying to cure the malady by destroying the marriage, he tries to cure the person and save the marriage. He sends the excessive drinker for counseling or treatment to a family agency, a psychiatrist, or A.A.

In its nearly quarter-century of experience with big drinkers, Alcoholics Anonymous has learned, among many things, that "the causes of alcoholism may stem from the problem drinker's early childhood and (many married couples) have assumed, mistakenly, that the alcoholic drinks to excess solely as an expression of rebellion against his or her mate."

In other words, it might be as bad in any marriage. Cure the person!

Sometimes drink is made the scapegoat. A woman recently went to the Alcoholism Information Center in New York, inquiring, "My husband is drinking. Should I leave him?"

"How long has this drink been going on?" she was asked.

"Ever since we were married," she replied.

"How long have you been married?"

"Eighteen years."

Seeking an Excuse

It was obvious that the woman had become bored with her mate and was seeking an excuse to slough him off. Drinking, since it has an air of damnation about it, seemed the convenient way to do him in, while at the same time retaining a high moral pose for herself. Actually the poor fellow liked his beer and merely went overboard occasionally while watching a fight and downed a quart.

ALCOHOL BRINGS UNHAPPINESS to many marriages, yet it is an amazing fact that nine out of ten wives of alcoholic husbands stick it out instead of going to the divorce court.

To be sure, there was a lot wrong with the marriage but it wasn't bottle trouble.

Habitual drunkness is a ground for divorce in all but eight states and the District of Columbia. Yet the amazing fact is not that so many mates of alcoholics seek freedom via the divorce court but rather that so many stick with their spouses through hell and high liquor.

"I drank up a wife," one alcoholic said to me. (That's their way of putting it)

"I drank up two," said another.

Yet, a conservative estimate is that for every wife (or husband) of an alcoholic who throws a mate over via divorce, nine stick it out. Why?

Why They Stick Together

A report of the Family Service of Dallas, Texas, cited "those famen 20 years of irregular support, ilies which have survived 10 or evfrequent drunken sprees, intense quarrels and separations lasting for periods of several months — marriages that have withstood a long and miserable history of inebriety."

Why do they stick together, "What sort of people are these men and women who seem over and over ready to fly apart and yet remain inescapably bound?" the Texas agency asked.

The answer—as a study of such couples revealed: they need each other. Even in the hell of alcoholism they're better off together than apart. And there's quite a noble triumph if they conquer it together.

City Doctors Take Options On Lots

A group of Edmonton doctors have received tentative approval for an option on four choice city lots on Jasper Avenue between 108 and 109 streets.

The doctors are forming a company to finance and build the 10-storey professional building.

The proposed structure would be similar to the Milner building but would have stores on the ground floor. It is estimated to cost $3,600,000.

Canada's gross national product (value of all goods and services produced) in 1958 has been estimated at $32.2 billion, up from $31.4 billion in 1957. Most of the increase was due to higher prices rather than greater volume.

Home And School Association Makes Plans For Coming Season

HYLO — The first meeting of the Hylo Home and School Association for the 1959-60 term was held on Thursday, September 10. Due to the busy season of harvesting only 14 members were present so it was decided to postpone election of officers. Enrolling of members took place and the Alberta Home and School News was distributed.

OLD BUSINESS

The swings were repaired by G. McEachern and the posts for the volley ball court were put up by M. Zalewsky, so the children are able to enjoy some recreation.

Richard Meardi reported that the divisional board advised that they will endeavor to build the new shelves for the library as soon as possible. Mrs. O. Meardi informed the members that the order for new library books is being taken care of by the teachers.

MERIT PAY

A circular on "Merit Pay" prepared by a special committee of the Alberta Federation at the request of the Royal Commission on Education was read. After a close study of the available material on the subject, the committee concluded that for the present most of Alberta is in a position to benefit more from a drive to achieve a truly professional status for teachers, both in degree of education and in salary, and from a direct effort to improve instruction, than it would from adoption of a merit salary system.

Merit rating seems to work, where it does work, only by genuine agreement between teachers and school board in a situation marked by mutual trust and respect, by high standards for employment coupled with high minimum salaries, and by enthusiasm for a common goal. Merit pay may thus be a reward above an already satisfactory pay-level for performance above the satisfactory level; it cannot in itself operate as a corrective for poor teaching. If we cannot or do not hire people who are good enough for the job they must do, we are not going to make them good enough by rewarding them or penalizing them in terms of salary. Incentive without opportunity is self-defeating. They need the means of finding out what is wrong, every assistance to correct it, and the opportunity for further training.

The time required to administer a fair rating system would be better spent directly on improving instruction by close supervision of inexperienced teachers, by use of diagnostic and achievement tests and other measurements, and by provision of inservice training courses. Above all, Alberta needs to set high standards for the teaching profession and make them workable. Finally, Alberta must be willing to hire a professional to do a professional job and to meet the professional standard with professional salaries.

BOOK CLUB

Information in regards to a book club was given by J. Rossi, whereby expensive books could be obtained at reasonable prices. This matter will be delved into at greater length.

The honor of a recommendation for a regional director for this area was given to Mr. and Mrs. S. Grandish and Mrs. O. Meardi but nothing definite has been decided upon as yet. The former regional director was Rev. R. S. H. Greene, who was transferred to Fairview.

NEW BUSINESS

Plans for preparing the skating rink for the season ahead were discussed. It was decided to make arrangements with the boys' hockey club, who were also having a meeting scheduled for this night, in regards to a fence, line-up and levelling. A special meeting will be called, if necessary, in regards to a well and the wiring for lights when further information is received about this.

It was decided that the Hylo HSA will pay for the Alberta H & S News for this year and that all members, as well as parents having children in school, will receive this informative paper. It was also decided to procure a radio for the school so benefit could be derived from the children's radio progarms.

A movie is planned for the October H S A meeting so everyone please watch for notices. Please Note: the next meeting will be held on Friday, October 23.

Mrs. C. Meardi and Mrs. E. Keehn volunteered to look after the lunch for the 1959-60 term.

Coffee and doughnuts served by Mrs. M. Grandish and Mrs. N. Zalewsky concluded a satisfactory meeting.

Division Schools

LAC LA BICHE — A misleading headline appeared in the Sept. 5th issue stating that the town of Lac la Biche was to spend $56,000.00 on a school. It should be made clear that the town simply issued a building permit to the Lac la Biche School Division for the structure. The school division administers its own affairs along these lines and the town has no actual jurisdiction.

The additional five classrooms being built will soon be in use and will fill a need for the ever-increasing enrolment.

SCENES LIKE THIS one could easily be a part of Edmonton's everyday life if our young fry took to the road as their parents do. These three young ladies are expressing their differences of opinion at the midget races held near Hamilton, Ontario.

Alvine Plamondon, Albert Menard Exchange Vows At St. Isidor's

BERNY—St. Isidor's Church was the scene of a lovely wedding recently when Miss Alvine Plamondon, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Plamondon of Plamondon, exchanged vows with Mr. Albert Menard, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Narcisse Menard of Berny.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her floor-length gown of white lace over net, trimmed with matching bows of sequins and pearls. The dainty nylon tulle fingertip veil was held in place by a double crown of sequins and pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewelry was white pearl earrings.

All bridesmaids wore similar dresses of net over satin, with scalloped neck and sleeves and a short three-tiered skirt. Complementing their dresses were crowns of sequins and pearls. All bridesmaids wore white shoes and gloves. Their jewelry was pearl necklace and ear-rings, gift of the bride. They all carried bouquets of matching flowers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Phyllis Plamondon, sister of the bride, in yellow; Miss Lena Menard, sister of the groom, in shrimp; Miss Lorna Belanger, cousin of the bride, in lime green, and Miss Estelle Richard, cousin of the bride, in mauve.

The groom's attendants were Mr. Euclide Menard, cousin of the groom; Mr. Andy Plamondon, cousin of the bride; Mr. Roland Paradis, cousin of the groom and Mr. Emilien Menard, cousin of the groom.

A banquet was served in the hall for approximately 120 guests after which a dance was enjoyed by all.

The bride and groom will make their home near Berny on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Narcisse Menard where they built their house.

Out-of-town included: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paradis and family, Miss Simonne Menard and Mr. Emile Labonty of Edmonton; Mrs. Bill Melnyk and son Bill and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Gauthier of Fort Smith.

Health Through Chiropractic

A Chiropractic adjustment starts the patient on the road back to good health. Its effect is to free the nerves from all pressure so that the essential energy from the brain—the life force that drives and controls all the organs and muscles of the body — may flow freely throughout the entire nervous system.

It is well to remember, however, that the adjustment is still just the start of the road back. Some of the articles in this column have been interpreted too freely and there is an impression in some quarters that complete recovery will follow a day or so after the adjustment. There are many such cases on record, but they are exceptional.

The length of time required for complete recovery depends on several factors, not the least of which is the length of time the condition has continued. Organs and tissues that have been steadily slowing down over a period of years cannot be expected to jump back to full speed overnight. Nature needs time to repair the damage after the Chiropractor has made the adjustment which sets the repair machinery in motion.

If it's health you are seeking, go to your Chiropractor. Be confident that he can restore you to good health. At the same time be patient and co-operative. Your body has all the powers of healing within it. Your Chiropractor will ensure that these powers are set to work. All you have to do is give time to complete their work.

Town Building Programs Marching Along Quickly

REDWATER — Preliminary work on the water softening plant being built for the town of Redwater near the Redwater Gas Conservation plant began last week. New-West Construction Co. Ltd., under the supervision of Associated Engineering Services of Edmonton are in charge of the work.

It is estimated that the cost of the buildings alone will run around $35,000 with an additional sum being spent on the machinery for the actual softening process. When done the plant will be run almost automatically, with a minimum of servicing.

Work has also begun on the $36,000 Royal Canadian Mounted Police barracks being built for the Department of Public Works by Larson Construction of Fort Saskatchewan. William Mitchell has been appointed Clerk of the Works by the Department of Public Works to supervise the building.

A modern home being built for M. Koziel is also rapidly nearing completion on the townsite.

Another construction includes the laying of sidewalks by the town in several sections of the town and installation of water and sewer lines to serve some estimated 20 residences in the west end subdivision recently approved by the Provincial Planning Commission.

MUNDARE — Facts and figures of death on the highways over the long weekend became grim reality to the people of Mundare this year: first when Victor Ulan of Mundare was involved in an accident nine miles west of Vermilion, that claimed the lives of two people. Mr. Ulan himself is in hospital at Vermilion with injuries sustained at the accident.

The second time the death toll was brought home to the Mundare citizens was on Labor day when Fred Zukiwski of Jasper Place, who was visiting relatives in Norma, was instantly killed in an intersection crash only two miles north of Mundare town. Soft Water Well Drilled At Mundare

MUNDARE—Well No. 2, which should prove to be the answer to all the water problems of the town of Mundare, was completed last week and had pumped for three days on Sept. 8, averaging six gallons per minute. The water is soft and clear and the supply looks promising.

The well is drilled one half mile from town and has a 36-inch hole to a depth of 28 feet and then a 24-inch hole to the depth of 75 feet. It is cribbed with concrete to this depth and then goes down to 250 feet with an 8-inch pipe.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

GOD HEALS LUNGS OF INFANT SON

One of my greatest joys is to receive a letter from a mother telling how God has miraculously healed her child.

When Jesus heals a little child, older people are deeply moved, and I am no exception.

"At the birth of our son," writes a mother from Indiana, "the delivering doctor and the hospital staff noticed that the boy was having difficulty in breathing.

"They put him in the hospital nursery and treated him for excess mucus. But he failed to respond to treatment and got steadily worse.

"To help diagnose the trouble numerous X rays were taken. The pictures showed a fibrous growth in our baby son's lungs. He was given oxygen to keep him breathing, but the doctor said his condition would be fatal within 24 to 48 hours.

"Since my husband and I had strong faith in God and trusted Him to heal our boy, we immediately requested our friends to pray with us.

"During that first night, while I was so worried over our baby, God met my faith! He assured me that everything was going to be all right.

"The doctor didn't offer us any encouragement for four days. But I had faith God would heal our baby. Then the doctor said there was some hope he would live! We kept our faith strong and continued to pray all during that time.

"On the fifth day, more X rays were taken. They showed no growth tissue in our baby's lungs whatsoever! We were allowed to take him home, but the doctor asked us to return at the end of the week for a checkup to be sure.

"We did return, and he told us our son's lungs were as good as anybody's and there was no sign of weakness.

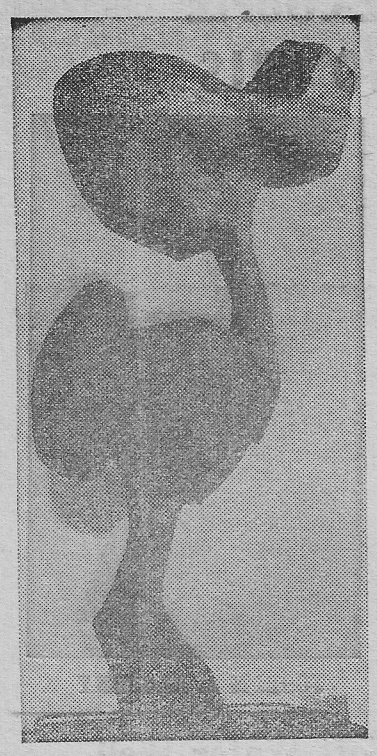
"Our boy is now four years old. He is in good health and is normal in every way. There is no evidence at all of any bad effects from the growth!

"My husband and I give God the glory and praise Him for our son's healing!"

Why did God heal this stricken newborn babe? Because the parents possessed faith in abundance! Their faith and earnest prayers brought healing for their child from God!

How strong is your faith today? Will you keep holding on, or will you give up easily?

Persistence and faith will pay off for you, too. God is a good God, eager to listen to your problems and to solve them for you.



IF ALBERTANS are wondering what to do with any spare steel they might have around they should try making some figures for their homes. This one is called "Animal Totem" and was on display in New York City's Museum of Modern Art. This little knick-knack sells at $1,500. Quite a "Steel" at that.

ALBERTA LIQUOR BOARD BANS GINGER ALE ADS ON TV SHOW

EDMONTON—The Alberta Liquor Control Board asked Alberta breweries to refrain from advertising their soft drinks on television. chairman George Clash said.

A similar request was also sent to the distillery in Calgary, the only one in the province.

Mr. Clash said the request was made so that the distillery and the breweries will not enter television advertising pending decision on a new code of advertsing.

The new code will possibly give breweries and distilleries more freedom to advertise. It now is illegal to advertise beer and liquor in the province.

Breweries have been advertising their soft drinks on radio, buses and in newspapers but, said Mr. Clash, the board does not want them to start TV advertising before the new code is drawn up.

He did not know when the new code would be in force.

Sick's Lethbridge Brewery Ltd. is the only one now advertising on TV by sponsoring the Sgt. Bilko show. The brewery said it has instructed its advertising agency to cancel the show by mid-September.
